THE OLD WORLD. An Open Letter

To Buyers of Ready Made Clothing!

It is a fact that the papers are terming with windy, meaningless advertisements, setting forth (in glaring letters) for facts—that which show on their faces ABSOLUTE FALSITY. When unscrupulous dealers adver lise to sell something for nothing, they are merely baiting to catch suckers.

The modest and unpretentious WHITE FRONT has studiously avoided all misrepresentation in advertising. And when we say, as we do now, that we have in stock the Most Desirable and Best Styles, the Most Perfect Fitting Garments, and withal the BEST MADE and Best Trimmed.

CLOTHING FOR MEN, YOUTHS, BOYS AND CHILDREN,

we are not exaggerating

Lovers of artistic character in Dress cannot, in justice to themselves.

THE WHITE FRONT.

and examined our Superb Selections

Our Medium and Low Priced Goods are cut and made with the same care as our Best Goods. In fact, when we place one of our Suits on an old man, a middle aged man, a young man, how or child, it adds a certain dignity to the wearer, that is so perceptible as to cause the looker on to involuntarialy exclaim

How Elegant!

How Perfect, etc.

A word as to prices and we are done. Rivals concede the superiority of our selections, but tell you the prices are very high. DO NOT BE DECEIVED! We Guarantee

Our Prices as Low as the Lowest!

And will give you First Class Goods, instead of Seconds. We do not expect to please everybody, but we do think that we can convince every reasonable customer that our goods have Merit, Character, Fit, Style—and last but not least, they are cheaper at our Price than "TRASH" at ANY PRICE

Extending a cordial invitation to all lovers of honest goods to visit the WHITE FRONT, we can assure you courteous and gentlemanly treatment, and would be pleased to serve you. Open for business every day and night except Sunday. No business transactions on Sunday.

Yours, Hopefully,

Serious Riots Result from the Cholera Panic in Italy-The Daily Mortality List.

Chinese Forces to the Number of Seventy-Five Thousand Men Marching to Invade Tonquin.

Preparations for the American Exhibition of 1886 in London-Other Foreign News.

Crazed by Their Peril.

ROME'S RABBLE BENT ON PURY. ROME, Sept. 5. - During the past twentyfour hours there have been 185 fresh cases and 85 deaths throughout Italy. One case of suspected cholera is reported from Ancona. Evidences of the cholera panic broughout Italy continue to multiply. Yesterday the populace at Pozzuoli attempted to stop the railway service from Naples. Here the populace drove away a priest who had just arrived from that city. At Orvieto travelers are refused entrance into the city. In some places a popular agitation has begun in favor of abolishing local quarantine and establishing houses of observation for travelers suspected of illness. In consequence of this plan being forbidden by the Government, the people of Civita Vecchia attempted to destroy the railway.

LONDON, Sept. 5.-The Rome correspondent of the Time; says: "The cholera panic prevails throughout Italy. Each town is taking measures for protection regardless of the Government. Some post guards prevent travelers from entering pregnards prevent travelers from entering pre-cincts until after a quarantine of twenty days. Many have closed their gates to every one, and several villages have estab-lished armed cordons. The result is that in many parts of the peninsula practical anarchy prevails. Travel and traffic are greatly interrupted."

Nova, Sept. 5.—King Humbert has made a contribution of $2.000 to aid the sufferers from the cholera at Spezia. The King will visit Naples, where three Cabinet Ministers are already visiting the worst quarters, to distribute relief.

NAPLES, Sept. 5.—Further heavy rainfalls have increased the mortality here. Roman condles are burned in the streets to purify the air. The statue of San Gamars was carried in procession yesterday. Troops are going to Cassno, Aboh and other towns which refuse to adult persons from Naples. to prevent interference with the movements of travelers.

MARSHILLES, Sept. 5.— During the twenty-four hours ended last night there were three deaths here from choicers. were three deaths here from cholers.
LONDON, Sept. 5.—Admiral Courbet will suspend operations in China until Patenotre has made a report of the political situation at Pekin. Telegraph communication north at Pekin. Telegraph communication north of Shanghai ceases at Tsining on the Great Canal. Reports have reached Shanghai through Tsining that the opposition of the neace and war parties is reaching the pitch of civil war. A Times Hong Kong dispatch of Wednesday says the French are shelling Kee-Lung again. It is presumed they intend to occupy the place. Its possession will be of no value as it will absorb all their available landing force without affording a corresponding advantage.

all their available landing force without affording a corresponding advantage.

Paris, Sept. 5.—The Republique Francaise says: "It is probable that Admiral Courbet will occupy the Island of Formosa in force. This action is necessary in order to secure a ratification of the treaty of Tients and the payment of the indemnity for the Lang Son affall."

The Indiumpolis "Soutinel" Files Its Answer in the Libel Case—The Charges
Reterated and Numerous Questions Propounded.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5. -- The an swer of the Scatinel Company in the Blaine libel suit was filed in the United States Court yesterday morning. The defense admits printing and publishing the article complained of in its issue of August 8 1884, and denies that it was false in any particular thereof. It sets forth that James G. Blaine was married to Harriet Stanwood, at Pittsburgh, or about March 25, 1851; that prior to that time, during their courtship, Blaine seduced Miss Stanwood; that he at

By reason was always acknowledged by the plainth and his wife as their son. By reason whereof the defendants say the matters and things set forth in the article recited are true, and, the same being true, they were published of and concerning the said plaintift by the defendants, as they justly and lawfully might do. The defendants file with their answer a number of interrogatories, and require that the same be answered by the plaintiff under oath positively and without evasion, within such time as and without evasion, within such time as may be limited by the Court thereby, among which are the following:

In commenting on the Madigan circular, the Pilot said a short time age: "It is nine years ago since this circular was issued. It had the effect desired by Mr. Blaine and the republicans of Maine; Mr. Madigan was defeated and much religious ill-feeling was aroused. But now the disgrace has come home and Mr. Blaine and party are vainly trying to drive it away. They declare that it was offensive to Protestant republicans, and that the republican postmasters tried to suppress it. This is a knave's lying exonse. Were it the truth, it would have been offered nine years ago... Now it is only the frightened coward's outery against the foul bird that has come home to roost at the wrong

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee: I cannot realize that a man should ever stand in the presence of a committee representing a more august holy of men than that which you represent. In the lan-guage of another, "The convention was large in numbers, august in culture and pariotic in sentiments," and may I not add to that, that because of the power and the greatness and the virtues of the party which represented, it was itself in every respect a very great convention. The delegates came from all the states and territories, and I believe, too, from the District of Columbia. They came clothed with authority to express judgment and opinion upon all these ques-tions which are not settled by constitutional law. For the purpose of passing upon those questions and selecting a ticket for the people that convention assembled. They decided upon the principles that they would adopt as a platform. They selected the candidates that they would propose to the party for their support, and that conven-tion's work was theirs.

I have not reached the period when it was proper for me to consider the strength and force of the statements made in the platform. It is enough for dent, does not involve much respo E.I. me to know that it comes at your hands from that convention addressed to my patriotic devotion to the Democratic party, I appreciate the honor that is done ine. I eed not question that, but at the same time that I accept the honor from you and from the convention, I feel that the duties and the responsibility of the office rest upon me also.
I know that sometimes it is understood that this particular office, that of vice-president, does not involve much responsibility. times it comes to represent very great responsibilities and it may be so in the near uture, for at this time the senate of the United States stands almost equally divided between the two great parties and it may be that those two great parties shall so exactly differ that the vice-prosident of the United States shall have to decide upon questions of law by the exercise of the casting vote. The responsibility would then become very great. It would not then be the managers of the plumed knight's canthe responsibility of representing a state or a district. It would be the responsibility of representing the managed his mind. He wanted his name representing the relationship of the rela representing the whole country and the obligation would be to the judgment of the whole country, and that vote when thus cast should be in obedience to the just expectations and requirements of the people of the United States. It might be, gentlemen, that upon another one "Butler will lust Blaine there more than "Butler will furt Blaine there will be wi casion great responsibility would attach to this office. It might occur that under circumstances of some difficulty—I don't think it will be next election—but it may occur under circumstances of some difficulty, the president of the senate will have to take his seident failed, told me the other day that part in the counting of the electoral vote, and allow me to say that duty is not to be

Death of Secretary Folger.

THE LAST HANNESS. GENEVA, N. Y., Sept. 5 .-- Secretary Folger died here at 4:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The only persons present were Mrs. Hart, his deceased wife's sister, Dr. Knapp, law associates, his family physician, Dr. A. B. Smith, and his colored servant, James. Dr. Smith and Captain J. S. Lewis had left him but a few minutes previously. Dr. II. Foster, who had been here two or three times as a consulting physician, arrived here on the 4:45 o'clock train and was conveyed to the Folger mansion by Dr. Smith. Mrs. Ernst, the Secretary's sister, arrived by the same train. Af-No Corner nor Crevice Left Unclean'd! ter the three entered the room the dying man gesped, and all was over. Secretary Folger's two daughters are in the Adirondacks, the elder in very feeble health. His son, Captuin Charles W. Folger, is at Alexandria, Va. All had been written to come to Geneva, the telegraph not being earlier resorted to, as so sudden a terminacarlier resorted to, as so sudden a termina-tion of the father's malady was not appre-hended. Captain Folger will arrive to-day. The Secretary returned for the last time to Geneva on Wednosday evening, August 20. He called his family physician the next morning, who gives the following di-agnosis of the case: Great feebleness of the heart's action, congestion of the middle lobe of the right lung, and capillary conges-tion of the bronchial tubes; torpor of the liver, and albummous discharge of the urine showing disease of the kidneys. The dector was informed that the Secre-

Charles James Folger was born at Nantacket, Mass, Apill 16, 1818, and lived there until 1830, when his parents removed to Geneva, N, Y., which he made his home for the rest of his life. After completing his college course he studied taw, and was admitted to the bar in 1839. In 1844 he was appointed Judge of the Court of Common Pleas. At that time he was a Silas Wright Democrat or "parn-burner," as it was then termed. He still sided with that wing of the party in 1848, when the Presidence of General Cass. DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS!

This, briefly, is the biography of Secretary Folger, but it touches too briefly upon the two most important events in his career—important also in the political history of the country—his: ppointment to President Arthur's Cabinet and his defect for Governor of New York. While he was in the New York Senate there grew up in the Republican party three factions, which were known as the Morgan wing, the Felton wing and the Conkling wing. Until he ascended the bench of the Court of Appeals, and was thus in a measure withdrawn from politics, it was understo t that Judge Folger was in full accord with the Morgan wing, which was directly opposed to the Felton wing, but held a neutral position with regard to Conkling and his followers. General Atthur was also a member of the Morgan wing of the party and thus became intimately associated with Judge Folger. After tarticid's election, but prior to his inauguration, while he was speculating upon the traineld's election, but prior to his inauguration, while he was speculating upon the make-up of his Cabinet, the name of Judge Folger was presented by Vice-President Arthur as that of a suitable person for the Treasury portfolio. Garfield then invited Senator Conkling to visit him at Mentor. At the conference which followed Garfield endeavored to impress upon his visitor his earnest desire to satisfy the stalwart wing. To his inquiries as to how this count best be done in the formation of Carfold than suggested to him commercial and financial importance and position. Garfield then suffected to him the name of Judge Foiger, and Mr. Conkling said it was perfectly acceptable. The assurance was then given him that the appointment would be made. Later on Mr. Garfield rearranged his Cabinet. and New York was given the portfolio of the navy. Levi P. James was made Post master-General, without, it is claimed by Mr. Conkling's friends, consultation either with him or Vice-President Arthur.

This episode was the beginning of the long contest between the New York managers and the Administration. When, after Garfield's death, Arthur was called to was ill suited, however, to Judge Folger's education and temperament. He was by nature a Judge, and during his entire term of service insisted upon examining every case that came before him with all the eare that he would give to a suit at law, and frequently devoted days and nights to cases of small consequences. The result was that the consequences. The result was that the business of the office dragged, and the delays occasioned by the extreme caution of the Secretary gave rise to many complaints. Much of the labor which under the former Secretaries had been done by subordinates Folger insisted on doing himself. As a necessary result he exhausted himself, and for many months has been an invalid. In an almost beroic way he remained at his an almost heroic way he remained at his no almost heroe way no remained at man an almost neries working hours frequently ran far into the night—until he was ordered by his physichans to desist.

In the summer of 1832 he had learned how misatisfactory his position in the Cabinet was likely to be, and when approached by his friends in New York it was suggested that his name be presented for the office of Governor. He consents I. Much has been Governor. He consente it. Much has been said of the influence of President Arthur in his behalf in that campaign. It the truth could be known very grave injustice has been done the Administration in the matter. Nevertheless the fine and cry which was raised on Presidential dictation resulted in the defeat of Folger and the election of Cleveland by the extraordinary majority of 190,000 votes. The result fell upon the Judge as a very heavy blow, and which had much to do with hashening his death. It was suggested some time afterward that he succeed Mr. Lowell at the Court of St. Junes, but with characteristic honesty he declined the profi characteristic honesty he declined the profcharacteristic nonessy he decimen the pro-fer on the ground that he was physically incapacitated to do his country justice in so important a mission. His health has steadily failed and his death will occasion no surprise to the circle of his immediate friends.

Judge Folger was a man of handsome and striking appearance, who would be conspicuous in any company. His face was expressive and mobile, and benevolenee beamed from his kindly eye. His appearance was undoubtedly the most aristocratic of any member of the Cabinet, not even excenting the President himself. Owing to recent domestic afflictions he lived quietly, and has not entertained since his residence in Washington. He was a widowor, and his only companion aside from his private secretary was his myahid daughter. THE NEWS AT THE CAPITAL. WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The first news of the death of Secretary Folger received in of the death of Secretary Folger received in this city was conveyed in an Associated Press dispatch from Geneva. Upon its being shown to Assistant-Secretary Cook of the Treasury, who is the Acting Secretary, he immediately notified the chiefs of the bureaus in the Treasury Department, and invited them to meet at his office in the ovening, Later Coon was informed by a telegram from Geneva, from the colored servant of Folger, of the latter's death. In the absence of the President an executive order to close the department could not be had, and he was doubtful of his authority to close the close the department could not be had, and he was doubtful of his authority to close the department informally, even for a day. He said that if there were no legal obstacles in the way he would close the department to day, and also on the day of the funeral. Judge Lawrence, Flist Comptroller, Judge Johnson, the Commissioner of Customs, and Mr. Alexander, the Frith Auditor, gave it as their opinion that the Acting Secretary had authority to close the department informalty. Mr. Coor, after hearing from, these advisors, announced that he would be seen ander closing the department to day informalty, and stated that he had already ordered the driping of the building.

In regard to the lithess of Secretary Folger Secretary Com said that he has received several letters recently from him, in which he wrote rather despondently. In one altusion to the burden of the work in the department he said that while he was about useless, still he would pack his trunk and return to duty if he (Coon) felt that too much was laid upon him. WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.-Mrs. Belva A Lockwood has written a letter to Maretta L Slowe, President of the National Woman's Equal Rights party in California, accepting the nomination to the office of President of the United States. Mrs. Lockwood says that in the event of her election she would endeavor to administer the country's affairs without regard to sex, color of Nationality. She is opposed to the monopoly by the male sex of all offices, and would appoint a reasonable number of women as District Attorneys, Marshats and United States Judgos. Any vacancy that might occur on the Supreme bench would be filled by a competent woman. She favors uni-form laws, especially in the matter of marriage and divorce. Mrs. Lockwood's letter from the Western women says she was se-lected for President because Elizabeth Cady Stanton was "too old," Susan B. Anthony "too much of a spinster." Mary A. Liver-more "too much opposed to certain class-ess," and Lucy Stone "too narrow."

Buller Opposed to Fusion.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 .- The State Committee of the Anti-Monopoly-Greenback party of Itlinois held an interview with General B. F. Buller yesterday, the subject under discussion being that of the talked of fusion on the State ticket with the Demo-eratic party. The conference cratic party. The conference resulted in the postponement of the matter, by wish of Mr. Butler. His reasons for desiting the postponement were that, while he was in favor of fusion in certain States, he thought that there was no certainty of whom a coalition in Illinois would benefit.
The General said: "It would not help me, because I don't think from the way things look now that there is the slightest shadow of a show for the defeat of the Republicans."
